2014 Chinese Bridge Summer Camp

Sponsor: Confucius Institute Headquarters/Hanban

Local organizer: Confucius Institute in Atlanta at Emory University

Who is eligible:

- High school students (including rising 9th graders)
- Non-Chinese citizen and non Chinese native speakers
- Students who have not participated in the camp before
- Students who have learned Chinese or plan to learn Chinese

When: July 16 – August 1, 2014

Cost to campers and chaperons: International airfare; visa fee ($180); international travel insurance; processing fee ($100)

All on-ground cost will be covered by the sponsor, including:

- room and board
- domestic travel in China
- admission and sightseeing
- camp activities

Camp activities include language lessons, cultural activities, sightseeing, interaction with Chinese students, etc. Students will be led by experienced chaperons from Atlanta area schools.

Application deadline: Feb. 21, 2014. Please see address on application form.

Questions? Please contact: xiaojing Sun (xiaojing.sun@emory.edu; 404-712-1247); Rong Cai (rcai@emory.edu; 404-727-5028).